All our products are potentised*

The Naturelle range breathes new life into your skin, by not just fusing together effective organic ingredients, but by capitalising on their vital benefits and putting them to the best use on your skin. This is achieved through a unique process of potentisation®, which energises all the active ingredients in the products, thereby making it more potent and yielding in revitalising your skin.

Potentisation® is an innovative process formulated to stabilise the energised particles of the active ingredients under carefully controlled temperature variations. Energised ingredients are better absorbed by your skin, which invigorates it from within, giving it a striking natural radiance.

Potentisation® also converts some of our ingredients into natural preservatives, thereby eliminating the use of artificial components. Devoid of alcohol and artificially synthesised solvents, Anar Naturals rejuvenates your skin using pure and natural elements, protecting it from skin irritations and side effects.
